

POLITICS IN ENGLAND

BRITAIN NO LONGER MISTRESS OF THE SEAS.

The Divided Liberals—The Queen's Next Demand of the Commons—Roush—Dangerously Ill—France's Penal Colony.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The beginning of the year finds the Liberal party divided into three factions—the Radicals with the sturdy Mr. Chamberlain and the alert Mr. Labouchere leading; the caucus of Liberals, with Mr. Gladstone, who lets "I dare not, wait upon I would," and the cautious Liberals with an aristocratic connection, holding advanced projects of the other two. Few doubt that the year will close without a new election, by which the democracy will gain new members but the Conservatives a small majority. The indictment just filed by 154 members against the Ministry has many counts, and worse than an indictment against the Government. The account is one of humiliation—that in regard to the unity of Britain no longer is able to rule the waves. There is one against France, with 1000 able bodied men out of employment in East London alone. There is one for allowing the policy of England to be one of disintegration. One for losing all the British allies, one for ravailing what Gladstone's speech of 1878 against the Berlin Treaty forwarded, called "moral bankruptcy," and one count for drawing the sword for the Khelive. In fine, England is the political Marqueter, with France as the ally, by Bonaparte, the Mephistopheles. All Liberals who are large property owners will leave Mr. Gladstone at the next election, because they are alarmed at his democracy. The politicians, however, wonder how the great National Liberal Club will speak on February 25, which is the banquet day announced to celebrate Lord Ripon's return from India. The Earl of Derby among the speakers.

The next demand by the Queen upon "her faithful Commons" will be for a dowry of $150,000 for her daughter, Princess Beatrice, upon the latter's marriage to Prince Henry of Battenberg, and for an annuity of $30,000 for the young couple thereafter. The prospect of this demand is said to explain the willingness of the Prince of Wales to abandon his claim for an allowance for his education. The dowry appropriation, however, is not likely to be passed in Parliament without serious opposition.

The latest advice from Nice show that there was some excuse for the report of the death of Louis Kosowich, which was cable all over the world on the 17th ultimo. The venerable patriot is very seriously ill, and has frequent comatose spells. While he was in one of these spells it was supposed he was dead, and a report to that effect was quickly circulated. He is still very low, and his recovery is exceedingly doubtful.

FRANCE'S PENAL COLONY.
PARIS, Jan. 8.—Lord Lyons, British Ambassador at Paris, has asked Prime Minister Ferry whether the report of the Governor of New Caledonia, urging the annexation of the New Hebrides Islands for use as a penal settlement for the worst class of convicts, has the approval of France. Gladstone insists upon the maintenance of the agreement establishing the independence of the islands. The Paris press approve of the annexation. The Gladstone says if Prime Minister Ferry acts with promptness and firmness England will submit.

The Temps eulogizes the colonial policy of Prime Minister. It says: "It will provide an outlet for the overpopulation of Germany and for German trade and enterprise."

STRENGTH AND WEALTH.
LIVERPOOL, Jan. 8.—A report reached here that an American Lion steamer from Philadelphia for Liverpool would arrive at Helix Head, between Queensferry and Liverpool. A dispatch received from Helix Head states that the steamer which went ashore was a New York and Bristol steamer, she was gotten off with little damage and proceeded on her way.

LABOR'S STRUGGLES.

International Communist Batters—Restriction at the Springfield Watch Factory.

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., Jan. 5.—The striking haters have issued another address to the public, denying the accuracy of the statement put forth by the four firms opposing the combination. The haters say that wages have been gradually decreased during the past seven years, and they declare that the plea that the combination wished to make equal prices for the same kind of work is untrue. The address concludes as follows: "The struggle will be maintained until the right prevails. We have no quarrel with our former employers, but we do not consent to be blotted out from the chart of humanity."

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 3.—The Illinois watch factory of this city has notified its employees that it will in future run but eight hours per day until further notice. The factory employs about 600 hands and the fear prevails that it will soon be obliged to close altogether for an indefinite period.

LANCASTER, Pa., Jan. 5.—Information has just leaked out of a supposed attempt to assassinate Colonel James Duffy, of Marietta, this county, on Tuesday, and owing to the Colonel's prominence it has excited a good deal of speculation. On Tuesday a loud report was heard in front of the Colonel's mansion, and at that instant a 30-calibre bullet crashed through the window above a crib in which the Colonel's infant child lay. The bullet struck an inside wall, indenting it, and fell flat on the floor. The affair has been kept quiet in the hope of some solution.

Beecher Vigorous at Seventy-two.
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—At the Plymouth Church prayer meeting in Brooklyn last evening Mr. Beecher expressed a very enthusiastic manner his sorrow that the meetings recently held had not been well attended and that those who were consequently absent. He said that although nearly seventy-two years of age his health was never better than now; that he has never been better equipped physically and mentally to perform his duties as pastor.

Canadian Business Troubles.
MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—The wholesale hardware trade of the Dominion is surprised by the failure of the two oldest houses in the trade, John Phillips & Co., Montreal, and J. L. Desmarais & Co., Quebec. Both houses are believed to have business connections, and the combined liabilities will probably reach $300,000. Phillips & Co. are successors to Elliott, Lantell & Co., who retired with a large fortune.
